1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

IN THE SPECIFICATION

The first line of the specification has been updated to reflect the parent applications issuance. The first line now reads as follows:

--This is a division of application Serial No. 09/263,817 filed March 8, 1999, now U.S. Patent No. 6,270,331, which in is a division of Serial No. 08/429,218 filed April 25, 1995, now U.S. Patent No. 5,925,302.--

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record fails to teach or suggest an apparatus for forming a pattern onto an article during an injection molding thereof as recited in claim 1 of the instant application. The closest prior art is disclosed by the combination of Ohno (U.S. Pat. No. 5,415,536; previously of record) and Nied et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 5,290,490; previously of record). Ohno discloses an apparatus for thermoforming and injection molding. While disclosing a heating board (9), Ohno does not disclose the board to include a plurality of heating blocks. Nied discloses an apparatus for thermoforming, including the use of a heating device divided into a plurality of heating block segments. The segments of Nied, however, form a matrix of rows and columns (see Fig. 1). Scaling down the heater to include a single vertical line of blocks is not described in the prior art, and appears to be contrary to the objectives of Nied of improving regional heating control over the sheet (cl. 4, ll. 36-41). Thus, there is no suggestion or motivation within the prior art for suggesting the claim language of the instant application requiring the heating blocks to be arranged in a vertical direction in one line only.

Any comments considered necessary by Applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
